ABSTRACT

This document is a basic template for writing conference-style reports in LaTeX. You will use this template when writing your report; you will need to replace all text (excluding section headers or preamble information) with the content of your report.

INTRODUCTION

This document is an example of Assignment 3 in CSE/IT101. You should describe what topic you chose and why you chose that topic. Also provide a summary of the topic, in a general sense. This section should describe any background information that the reader needs to know to understand your topic.

TIME PERIOD

You should describe the time period in which your topic was invented or used here. Also include the context for why your topic was created or for how it is used. Any specific historical information should be included here.

COMPUTER HARDWARE

You should list the specification of any hardware your topic uses here. If you want make a table here, please label the table and include discussion on what components are included in the table and why. See Table 1 for an example of a table. The labels/captions of the table should be put at the bottom of the table.

You might want to put figures in the document. Please remember to label them. The labels/captions of the figures should be put at the bottom of the figure. See Figure 1 for an example of how to use figures. You will need to place the figure in an `images/` folder in your working directory.
	Col1	Col2	Col3
Row1	(1,1)	(1,2)	(1,3)
Row2	(2,1)	(2,2)	(2,3)
Row3	(3,1)	(3,2)	(3,3)

COMPUTER SOFTWARE

Describe the software used for your chosen topic if any, and state any uses of the software that your topic had. If your topic does not have or use software, describe why it doesn't use software and how it functions without it.

CONCLUSION

Conclude your research paper with any reflections on what you learned about your topic. Was this what you expected to find? Did you find any facts that surprised you? You may add other personal reflections about the topic here.
